Management's Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements of Appili Therapeutics Inc. (the "Company") are the responsibility of management and have been approved by the Board of Directors. The unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. The unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements include some amounts and assumptions based on management's best estimates, which have been derived with careful judgment.

In fulfilling its responsibilities, management has developed and maintained a system of internal accounting controls. These controls are designed to ensure that the financial records are reliable for preparation of the unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements. The Board of Directors reviewed and approved the Company's unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements.

These financial statements have not been reviewed by the external auditor of the Company.

1 Nature of operations and going concern risk

Appili Therapeutics is building a National Security Healthcare company that develops, acquires, and advances medical technologies to protect military personnel, strengthen national resilience, and address critical healthcare needs. Guided by a force health protection framework, Appili is building a portfolio spanning infectious disease, physiological readiness, diagnostics, biosurveillance, and protection against chemical, biological, radiological, and nuclear threats. The Company emphasizes dual-use technologies with applications across defense, government, and commercial healthcare markets. Appili's current portfolio includes programs addressing biological threats, serious infections, and other urgent unmet medical needs.

Going concern

These unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IFRS Accounting Standards") applicable to a going concern, which contemplates the realization of assets and settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business as they come due.

For the period ended September 30, 2026, the Company reported a loss of $3,538,795 (September 30, 2025 - $2,238,647) and an accumulated deficit of $79,497,343 (September 30, 2025 - $73,956,455). In addition to repaying or refinancing the Company's debt facilities that mature in the next twelve months and funding its ongoing working capital requirements, the Company must secure sufficient funding through financing activities to cover research and development expenditures to advance the programs in its pipeline that are planned for the next twelve months. These circumstances lend significant doubt as to the ability of the Company to fund planned expenditures and, accordingly, the appropriateness of the use of accounting principles applicable to a going concern.

The ability of the Company to repay or refinance its debt facilities and fund working capital requirements to advance its programs in its pipeline is dependent on successfully raising additional financing through equity and/or non-dilutive funding and/or partnerships. There can be no assurance that additional financing will be available on acceptable terms or at all. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing when required, Appili may have to substantially reduce or eliminate planned expenditures. Management is evaluating alternatives to secure additional financing so that the Company can continue to operate as a going concern. Nevertheless, there is no assurance that these initiatives will be successful.

The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on its ability to raise funding to satisfy its debt and working capital requirements and fund its research and development programs. These consolidated financial statements do not reflect the adjustments to the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the reported expenses and balance sheet classifications that would be necessary if the Company were unable to realize its assets and settle its liabilities as a going concern in the normal course of operations. Such adjustments could be material.

2 Basis of preparation

The Company prepares its unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards and Part I of the Chartered Professional Accountants of Canada Handbook – Accounting.

These unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards applicable to the preparation of interim condensed consolidated financial statements, including IAS 34, International Accounting Standards 34 "Interim Financial Reporting". Accordingly, certain information normally included in annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards, have been omitted or condensed. The unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's annual audited financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026. The accounting policies used are consistent with those used in the audited financial statements.

The policies applied in these unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements are based on IFRS Accounting Standards issued and outstanding as of November 12, 2026, the date the Board of Directors approved the unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements.

3 Critical accounting estimates and judgments

These unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements for the six months ended September 30, 2026 have been prepared using the same policies and methods as the annual audited consolidated financial statements of the Company. Refer to note 3 of the Company's annual audited consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2026 for more information on accounting estimates and judgements applied.

4 Revenue

During the six months ended September 30, 2026, the Company earned $141,012 (September 30, 2025 - $103,935) from royalties earned on the sale of ATI-1501 drugs, including $23,118 accrued for the three months ended September 30, 2026.

5 Amounts receivable

	September 30 2026 $	March 31, 2026 $
Sales tax receivable	31,701	41,431
NIAID Receivable	916,812	1,601,171
Other receivable	79,482	148,252
	1,027,995	1,790,854

In September 2025, Appili was awarded a contract by National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases ("NIAID"), part of the National Institutes of Health. The contract was structured as a five-year program with an initial US$3.6 million base period and additional options to support development through Investigational New drug ("IND") submission and Phase 1 clinical trials, valued at up to US $40 million. Appili served as the prime contractor, overseeing program execution, compliance, and reporting. The amounts received from NIAID under this contract were recorded as government assistance in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss.

For the six months ended September 30, 2026, the Company recognized net government assistance of $259,268 (September 30, 2025 - $773,954). This comprises reimbursement of costs from NIAID of $360,353 and the Request for Equitable Adjustment of $204,975 described below, less the USAFA true-up of $312,460 described below.

During the quarter, the Company completed a true-up of amounts claimed under its contract with the US Air Force Academy ("USAFA") using final indirect cost rates. The true-up indicated that the Company had been reimbursed US$220,228 ($312,460) in excess of allowable costs. This amount has been recorded as a reduction of government assistance and is included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities as at September 30, 2026.

On May 21, 2026, NIAID issued a stop-work order under the contract, which remained in effect until NIAID terminated the contract for convenience on July 2, 2026. The Company has recognized a receivable of US$144,470 ($204,975) for costs incurred as a result of the stop-work order, comprising employee retention costs, request preparation costs, legal costs and related indirect costs. The Company submitted a Request for Equitable Adjustment ("REA") for this amount to NIAID on November 3, 2026.

On July 3, 2026, the Company received a notice of termination from NIAID, terminating the agreement with the Company. The notice of termination gives rise to uncertainty regarding the recoverability of amounts receivable from NIAID as at September 30, 2026. In accordance with the Company's accounting policy, the Company assessed these receivables for impairment based on an evaluation of the counterparty's response to the claim.

As a result, the Company recognized an impairment loss of $492,700 during the six months ended September 30, 2026, which is included in general and administrative expenses within the statement of profit or loss.

NIAID receivable, gross	1,409,512
Less: impairment	(492,700)

6 Amounts due to directors

During the period ended September 30, 2026, the Company incurred $177,500 (September 30, 2025- $170,422) of directors' fees earned by the independent members of the Board of Directors who are not employees, officers or are greater than 10% shareholders of the Company. As at September 30, 2026, $355,000 (September 30, 2025- $88,750) was due to those individuals. These costs are included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities in the consolidated statements of financial position.

7 Due to related party and related transactions

For the period ended September 30, 2026, the Company received cash advances of $1,189,000 (March 31, 2026 - $nil) from Bloom Burton & Co., a related party. The advances are non-interest bearing, unsecured and have no specified repayment terms. The amounts are separate from the Company's existing promissory note arrangements and are classified as current liabilities within accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

As at September 30, 2026, the principal and interest outstanding under the original bridge loan and the secured bridge loan was $827,337 (March 31, 2026 - $799,451) and the carrying amount of the bridge loans was $700,000 (March 31, 2026 - $700,000), included in the current portion of long-term debt. Interest on loan has been added to accounts payable and not capitalized.

ACOA Loans

Total contributions received, less amounts that have been repaid as at September 30, 2026 for ACOA loans, were $3,078,853 (March 31, 2026 - $3,226,185). Certain ACOA loans require approval by ACOA before the Company can pay dividends or other distributions, or before there is any change in ownership of the Company.

Bloom Burton unsecured bridge loans

As of September 30, 2026 the loans have passed the original maturity date and a waiver was received from the lender, effective September 30, 2026, extending maturity to December 31, 2026.

LZH Secured Loans

The Company secured several additional waivers during the period from its lender, most recently on September 30, 2026, where the lender agreed to extend the repayment of the outstanding obligations under the LZH loans to October 31, 2026. A conditional waiver fee of $18,000 is payable upon completion of an equity financing with minimum gross proceeds of at least $350,000 (the "Financing"). Subsequent to period end, the maturity was further extended to November 30, 2026 (note 13).

On July 1, 2026, the Company granted a total of 985,000 stock options to directors, officers, and employees under the Company's third amended and restated stock option plan, at an exercise price of $0.025 per common share and an expiry date of July 1, 2036. Of these options, 500,000 vested immediately on grant and 485,000 vest in three equal annual instalments, with the first instalment vesting on the date of grant.

Effective September 8, 2026, the Company entered into amending agreements with each of the optionees to increase the exercise price of these options from $0.025 to $0.05 per common share, as required by the NEX Board of the TSX Venture Exchange ("NEX") as a condition of listing. The amendment takes effect on the date the common shares are listed on the NEX which occurred on October 5, 2026. As the amendment does not increase the fair value of the options, no incremental share-based compensation has been recognized, and the grant-date fair value continues to be recognized over the vesting period.

Option activity for the six months ended September 30, 2026 and September 30, 2025 were as follows:

11 Financial instruments

Financial instruments are defined as a contractual right or obligation to receive or deliver cash on another financial asset. The following table sets out the approximate fair values of financial instruments as at the consolidated statements of financial position dates with relevant comparatives:

	September 30, 2026		March 31, 2026
	Carrying Value	Fair Value	Carrying Value	Fair Value
	$	$	$	$
Cash	398,533	398,533	40,003	40,003
Amounts Receivable	996,294	996,294	1,749,423	1,749,423
Accounts Payable and accrued liabilities	8,758,025	8,758,025	6,303,898	6,303,898
Long-term debt	13,632,974	13,632,974	12,936,265	12,936,265

Assets and liabilities, such as commodity taxes, that are not contractual and arise as a result of statutory requirements imposed by governments, do not meet the definition of financial assets or financial liabilities and are, therefore, excluded from amounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities in this table.

Fair value of items, which are short-term in nature, has been deemed to approximate their carrying value. The above-noted fair values, presented for information only, reflect conditions that existed only at September 30, 2026, and do not necessarily reflect future value or amounts, which the Company might receive if it were to sell some or all of its assets to a willing buyer in a free and open market.

The fair value of the long-term debt is estimated based on the expected interest rates for similar borrowings by the Company at the unaudited interim condensed consolidated statements of financial position dates. At September 30, 2026, the fair value is estimated to be equal to the carrying amount. The inputs into the determination of the fair value of the long-term debt, including the discount rate, are classified as Level 3 in the fair value hierarchy.

The following table outlines the contractual repayments for long-term debt, which includes loans with a set repayment schedule, as well as loans that are repayable based on a percentage of revenues, for the Company's financial liabilities. The long-term debt is comprised of the contributions received described in note 8 as at September 30, 2026:

	Total	Year 1	Years 2 to 3	Years 4 to 5	After 5 Years
	$	$	$	$	$
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	8,758,025	8,758,025	-	-	-
Long-term debt	16,078,464	13,146,054	271,372	227,787	2,433,251
	24,836,489	21,904,079	271,372	227,787	2,433,251

12 Contingencies

The Company received a demand letter from a former employee for wrongful termination with a demand amount of US$400,000. The Company's management believes the claim is without merit and does not consider the exposure to such claim to be material, although this cannot be predicted with certainty.

13 Subsequent Events

On October 2, 2026, following the termination of the NIAID contract, the Company laid off three employees, and effective October 15, 2026, its Chief Development Officer stepped down. The Company will recognize termination related expenses of approximately $148,836 in the three months ending December 31, 2026. Under the separation agreements, the employees released claims to accrued and unpaid bonuses of $666,209 included in accounts payable and accrued liabilities as at September 30, 2026, which will be reversed in the quarter ending December 31, 2026. Unvested stock options held by certain former employees vested on termination and their exercise period was extended; the related share-based compensation will be recognized when the agreements became effective.

On October 5, 2026, the Company's common shares were listed on the NEX Board of the TSX Venture Exchange, and the amended exercise price of $0.05 per common share for the stock options granted on July 1, 2026 became effective (note 10).

On October 31, 2026, the Company and LZH entered into a lender agreement and waiver extending the repayment of the outstanding obligations under the LZH loans to November 30, 2026. The lender also waived the requirement that the Company's shares remain listed on the TSX, conditional on the shares continuing to be listed on the NEX on November 30, 2026. The conditional waiver fee of $18,000 remains payable upon completion of the Financing (note 8).

On November 3, 2026, the Company submitted a Request for Equitable Adjustment to NIAID in the amount of US$144,470 (note 5) related to the termination of this contract by NIAID on July 2, 2026.
